SUBJECT: CAUT (Canadian Association of University Teachers) Women's Conference

CAUT recently announced the CAUT Women's Conference, "Mobilizing in an Era of Restructuring" which will take place 16-18 October 2008 in Ottawa. The conference includes a keynote address by Rosemary Deem (Professor of Education, University of Bristol, UK), and panel presentation and discussion groups on "Working in a Time of Scarcity," "The Unsustainable Job," and "Building Inclusive Academic Staff Associations." Additional information is available on-line at <http://caut.ca/pages.asp?page=680>.

MUNFA is prepared to send a delegate from our membership-at-large. If you are interested, please let us know by e-mailing the MUNFA Office (munfa@mun.ca) no later than September 3, 2008.
